Livewire and Tranax Announce the Launch of the Livewire Destination Ticketing Solution

York, PA – April 15, 2005 Livewire International, Inc., a leading innovator of self-service technology, is pleased to announce the launch of the ATM-based Livewire Destination Ticketing Solution. Livewire and Fremont, CA based Tranax Technologies have partnered to create the Livewire Destination Ticketing Solution running on the Tranax Ticketing Self-Service Terminal (SST). This is a machine that represents the convergence of traditional ATM functionality with self-service destination ticketing technologies.

With the launch of this new solution, consumers will now have the ability to purchase a range of destination tickets on a fully self-service basis as well as complete standard ATM transactions, all from a single terminal. The Livewire solution groups tickets by venue, product and price, and are available for destinations such as:

- Amusement Parks
- Ski Resorts
- Water Parks
- Fairs
- Concerts
- Sporting Events
- State and Federal Parks
- Cruise and Bus Tours
- Other General Admission Destinations

The Ticketing SST and Livewire Solution have been designed to provide consumers with faster, easier and cheaper access to key local destinations, while delivering merchants and our distribution partners with a range of key benefits including increased revenue opportunities, product differentiation and reduced operating costs.

“Our partnership with Livewire is one that we see as critical to the success of our new Ticketing SST. Through their comprehensive content network, solid understanding of a range of ticketing markets and a robust host application, Livewire has supported the creation of, what we at Tranax see as, the first in a long line of products and solutions that are the next generation self-service technologies and the evolution of the off-premise ATM” states Tranax President & CEO, Dr Hansup Kwon.

Tranax and Livewire are currently in the process of conducting beta trials of this new solution which is commercially available for general purchase on April 18, 2005.
